

TIMELINE OF DISABILITY ABUSE

VICTIM: ANDREW U. D. STRAW

DISABILITIES

1. My disabilities primarily come from crimes committed against me as my family and I served the U.S. Marine Corps and the Indiana Supreme Court, my former employer.
2. I was born and poisoned and given bipolar disorder, brain damage to my hippocampus, which is the part of the brain that affects the emotions and memory. 38 C.F.R. § 17.400(b)(xiv) This happened on the U.S. Marine Corps base where I was born: Camp LeJeune, North Carolina.
3. I am still trying to obtain the health coverage provided by the VA for the children of Camp LeJeune veterans. Straw v. Wilkie, 20-2090 (Fed. Cir.). For some reason, there has been extreme resistance both for me being covered by the Camp LeJeune Family Member Program and getting any compensation for the damage to me and the wrongful death of my mother. Straw v. North Carolina, 20-1295 (4th Cir. 2020); Straw v. United States, 16-17573-GG (11th Cir. 5/22/2019).

4. Absolutely no one wants to take responsibility for the disabilities, death, and discrimination in my family. Congress, the president, and the courts all failed to take full responsibility for what happened to me and I experience far more discrimination and retaliation than I ever do assistance.

DISCRIMINATION

5. I worked at the Indiana Supreme Court and a reckless driver hit me head-on as I drove to the Court to work one morning, about 6 months into the job. The Court discriminated.

6. When I passed the bar, I included information about my bipolar from Camp LeJeune because the application required it of me. The Court discriminated, forcing me to talk about my symptoms in front of a room full of my colleagues with whom I worked at the Court.

7. I was fired just a matter of days after I was admitted to practice law. A variety of forms of discrimination happened after I stopped working there.

8. In 2014, I made a variety of complaints in one document that I called a Petition for Redress of Grievances, and I did have grievances. 42 U.S.C. §§ 12132, 12133.

9. The Court discriminated against my complaints, with the Clerk not willing to file it and the ADA coordinator retaliating immediately after she received my complaint.
10. The idea that an ADA COORDINATOR would retaliate with a disciplinary complaint is unheard of. But it did happen. Straw v. Indiana Supreme Court, et. al., 1:16-cv-3483-SEB (S.D. Ind. 2/16/2017) (Dkts. 1-11 & 1-13).

INDIANA SUPREME COURT: “DISCRETIONARY SUSPENSION”

11. There were due process problems. The discipline was nonsensical. Criminals were treated much better than me. I am not a criminal.
12. The Disciplinary Commission recommended 60 days of suspension but offered no precedent to justify it, since hurting a disabled lawyer in this way for using the ADA in federal court has no precedent. 42 U.S.C. § 12133 forbids it. The hearing officer recommended a “brief suspension” but he was ignored also and his recommendation had no precedent either.

13. The suspension was set at 180 days with reinstatement wholly and completely at the whim and discretion of the Indiana Supreme Court.
14. The suspension has actually gone over 3 years past the 180 days originally imposed. 3 years and 7+ months in total.
15. The Indiana Supreme Court could not provide even one precedent to justify this extremely long suspension.
16. And of course it is unprecedented to suspend someone for 3 years beyond the original suspension with 25 motions and pleadings just allowed to sit without any ORDER.
17. After 180 days, the suspension was, according to the Indiana Supreme Court ORDER, wholly discretionary. So, over 3 years and 1 month of discretionary suspension has been applied.
18. The ABA has a rule governing suspensions for misconduct and this Rule 10 has an absolute maximum time limit: 3 years. I am 7 months over that time.
19. I refuted the Indiana Supreme Court's arguments and placed them here: <http://InReStraw.andrewstraw.com>

20. The Virginia State Bar rejected this suspension outright in 2017, while my federal lawsuit was still open at the 7th Circuit.

21. I have been attacked for my ADA work, my ADA lawsuits, and my disability from Camp LeJeune, all part of a scheme, state & federal to deprive me of my law career, my law licenses, and humiliate me publicly. This includes my personal sacrifice from the U.S. Marine Corps poisoning of me while my father trained for Vietnam. He is a veteran of Vietnam, 1970-1971.

22. My brother is a retired CCATT nurse (critical care trauma nurse) and served as a captain in the U.S. Air Force in Afghanistan. He and his team saved the lives of American veterans blown up on the battlefield, with limbs missing and brain traumas, not to mention deafness. My family have served in the military and the police forces in the United States for over 200 years. Our ancestor, Dr. Thomas Young was a recognized American Founder. He died as the chief surgeon in a Continental Army hospital in 1777. Like my brother and myself, his focus in the Continental Army was on public service and disability, and protecting injured veterans.

NATIONWIDE ASSAULT ON ME

23. I have been attacked by third parties as well. Straw v. Dentons, 20-2075 (2nd Cir. 2020); Straw v. Wolters Kluwer, 20-1507 (2nd Cir. 2020).
24. However, the worst of all is a national and global directory of American attorneys called Avvo.com and based in Seattle, Washington. Straw v. Avvo, Inc., 2:20-cv-294-JLR (W.D. Wa.) (Dkts. 45, 45-1 to 45-10, 47)
25. I am pushing for 5th Amendment Takings for the way my licenses were taken, both state and federal, as part of the scheme to injure me by taking my property. Also, for the manner in which my Camp LeJeune relief (property rights) was Taken, and how federal court clerks have violated my property rights in the use of the courts. Straw v. U.S., 1:20-cv-1132-MBH (Fed. Cl.); Straw v. U.S., 1:20-cv-1145-MBH (Fed. Cl.); Straw v. U.S., 1:20-cv-1154-MBH (Fed. Cl.); Straw v. U.S., 1:20-cv-1157-EMR (Fed. Cl.).
26. It is still the case that the Indiana Supreme Court bans all disabled people from practicing law. <http://ban.andrewstraw.com>

27. The 4th Circuit has been wholly unhelpful, but at least they are not like the 7th Circuit and do not abuse the term frivolous, at least so far. Straw v. Indiana, 20-1332 (4th Cir. 2020); Straw v. U.S. Dist. Ct., et. al., 20-1352 (4th Cir. 2020); Straw v. State Department, 20-1565 (4th Cir. 2020); Straw v. U.S., 20-1787 (4th Cir.).
28. It is always frustrating to have incontrovertible evidence of discrimination and takings but then the judges who are supposed to protect you and your rights just will not, as refuseniks.
29. Rights without enforcement are hot air.
30. The Justice Department knows how I am being treated, but will not help. DOJ chooses not to help. I am doing this alone.
31. But there is one thing that is for certain. I made money for Alan M. Voorhees because I am creative and know how to come up with new ideas which have a big impact. This is how I came up with the protective order database the Indiana courts implemented, connecting with all sheriffs, the State Police, and the FBI. Just one invention like that validates my entire career. Being the one who complained and got rid of a corrupt groper of an attorney general in Indiana is also an accomplishment.

<http://curtishill.andrewstraw.com> I was willing to step up for 4 women who were abused.

32. But where is the cavalry to stand up for me?

33. I earned more than a lifetime of poverty and verbal abuse by my former employer. It is not that I am incompetent. They are full of vengeance and malice and hate because I made true and correct criticisms of THEM.

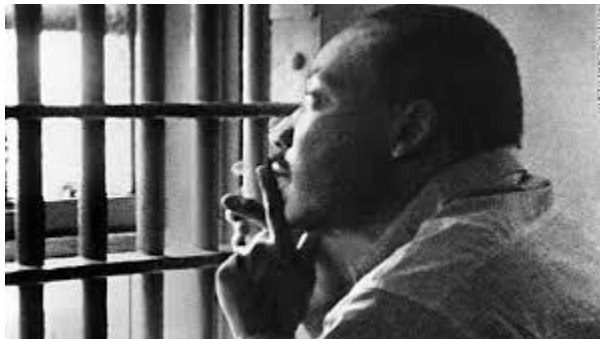

34. I earned more than being told I can lose 4 federal law licenses without any hearing, with the 7th Circuit relying on the Indiana hearing officer they just hired as a judge. Straw v. U.S. District Court, 17-2523 (7th Cir.); Straw v. Indiana Supreme Court, et. al., 17-1338 (7th Cir. 7/6/2017).

35. And when I no longer wanted to associate with courts that would violate me with no due process, the 7th Circuit called my demand for rescission "frivolous." But I had a First Amendment right to boycott and no amount of false reasoning can defeat this fact. Straw v. U.S. District Court, 18-2192 (7th Cir. 2018).

36. The 7th Circuit is so hostile and corrupt, they allow perjury so long as it injures me and violate my right to use the courts when I complained about the perjury. Straw v. Indiana, 18-2878 (7th Cir. 2018) (Dkt. 17); McDonald v. Smith, 472 U.S. 479, 486 (1985); California Motor Transp. Co. v. Trucking Unlimited, 404 U.S. 508, 510 (1972). They allowed ice piles to build up and block the public sidewalks in Northern Illinois so long as it was me complaining about it. One cannot trust judges like that. They oppress me and deny my rights. Straw v. Streamwood, et. al., 17-1867 (7th Cir. 2018).

37. The most honorable Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. also suffered from dishonest judges violating the law and the Constitution. He suffered unlawful detention for his First Amendment activity. Edwards v. South Carolina, 372 U.S. 229 (1963). On the last day of his life, he spoke about illegal injunctions.

39. He defied the illegal injunctions and was jailed, then shot and killed.

40. I criticized a court and had my law license suspended for 3 years and 7+ months, reciprocally imposed on 4 U.S. District Court licenses, just as illegally as the Indiana license. 5 law licenses in total. I guess in the USA it is an ethical violation to criticize a court because that is how this all started. Violating my First Amendment right to criticize a court directly to that court when it was my former employer and discriminated against me for over a decade, nearly two decades now.

41. Where is my justice?

42. Will I die destitute and penniless, first “lawyer” in my family because some judges have an infinite capacity for hate and vengeance? That is the road we are on now.
